

a PHOENIX company

Would you like to be the link between the business, its processes and IT?

Tamro Baltics' IT team is looking for an analytical, solution-focused

JUNIOR BUSINESS SYSTEMS ANALYST

Your main role is to identify business' IT needs and translate these into cost-efficient technical solutions by determining the requirements of a project, and communicating clearly to all stakeholders and partners. You will be contributing to achieving business goals and development plans for Tamro Baltics' retail and wholesale.

Your key responsibilities:

- gather, evaluate and analyse requirements;
- participate in analysis, testing and implementation of processes and systems;
- collaborate with key stakeholders including internal business customers and external vendors;
- create and maintain documentation materials for existing and new systems and processes.

You are an ideal candidate for the position if:

- you are able to consider yourself as business-oriented and knowledgeable in business analysis;
- you are detail-oriented, systematic and highly organised;
- you have analytics or IT related experience;
- you also possess excellent communication and cooperation skills;
- having a prior experience with BI, POS, ERP or CRM is an advantage for consideration for this role;
- we expect you to be fluent in English.

Tamro Baltics offers you interesting and responsible work in the development of international diversified business. You are expected to join a team of professionals valuing trustworthiness, constant improvement, customer orientation, collaboration and innovation. We offer you self-fulfilment in our positive and result-oriented environment, with attractive pay and motivation system.

The job position is located in Kaunas.

Welcome to submit your application! Please apply via cv@tamro.com latest by January 25th, 2019. You can also apply via Tamro Baltics profile of LinkedIn.
